Fall Season. Breaks Record For Resorts

Arabian Fete Adds to French Milk Fund and Gives Society Its Final Outdoor Entertainment

Newport Extends Season
Tableaux To Be Given at Irvington to Assist the "Robin's Nest" Home

Just as the summer broke all records the resorts, both shore and inland, is the autumn attracting unexpected crowds to the mountains, and the Southern resort spots already are filled comfortably and the winter colonies are assuming early winter proportions.

The formal events of the fall season were brought to an end with the Minicola horse show during the week and the open-air fete at the Conklin estate at Huntington for the benefit of the Free Milk for France Fund.

It was one of the most pretentious affairs of the year, prominent society women taking part in the ballets with the professionals.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Reckford will sail for Europe next Thursday on board the Mauretania. They will spend two months abroad, travelling most of that time in England and France. Mr. Reckford is president of the American Lead Pencil Company.

A series of tableaux, arranged by Miss Fisher, of Philadelphia, will be given Friday evening, October 10, in the Town Hall, Irvington, N. Y., for the benefit of the Robin's Nest, a summer home at Tarrytown, for the care of crippled children. The tableaux will be posed by young people of the neighborhood. Refreshments will be served and there will be general dancing.

Mrs. Reginald H. Jafray is chairman of the committee in charge, and associated with her are Mrs. Edwin Gould, Mrs. Alfred McEwen, Mrs. Kenyon B. Conger and Mrs. Henry Graves. Mr. Howard Carroll is president of the institution, and among the officers and members of the executive committee are Mrs. H. K. Browning, Mrs. Henry V. D. Black and Mrs. John B. Calvert.

Autumn Season Is Gay At Virginia Hot Springs

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Ackers Are Hosts at Dinner Party Here for Mrs. Archibald McCrea

HOT SPRINGS, Va., Sept. 27.—The autumn season is well under way and before another week will be in guest action. The last week has been notable and there has been much entertaining both at The Homestead and in the cottage colony.

A dinner was given by Mr. and Mrs. Matthew L. Ackers at Upham House early in the week for Mrs. Archibald McCrea before her departure for New York. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Campbell Graef, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Bashford, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Ryan, Mrs. Scherill, Lieutenant Commander Alexander Legare and Dr. John H. Girvin.

Mr. and Mrs. Graef are entertaining Mrs. A. L. Graves and Miss Antoinette Graves at Barton Lodge and also Peter Gregg, of the British Embassy. Miss Catherine Trent, niece of Mr. Graef, is also a house guest at Barton Lodge.

William Thaw Arrive
Mr. and Mrs. William Thaw, 24, and Miss Virginia Thaw have arrived at The Homestead and are to remain here through September. Mr. and Mrs. William A. Kissam also arrived early in the week for the early autumn season.

Mrs. William Scovry, Dr. and Mrs. H. F. Fries, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Oakley, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Huber, Mr. and Mrs. John Bettner, Mr. and Mrs. B. Lester Tyndal, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Goetzchius, Mrs. Walter P. Fearon, Mrs. W. C. Wightman and Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Wightman also arrived during the week from New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Pierce have arrived and taken a cottage for the season.

TRAVEL

The Battle Fields

Our LONDON, PARIS and BRUSSELS offices have been conducting parties to the Battlefields throughout the summer. We have initiated and developed with great success "AERIAL TOURS DE LUXE" from London to Paris, thence to those points which have become famous as scenes of conflict in the recent war. Our organization has thus accumulated most valuable experience and knowledge which we now place at the disposal of our American clients.

THE NEXT TOUR ORGANIZED BY OUR AMERICAN OFFICES WILL SAIL FROM NEW YORK ON OCTOBER 11th BY THE WELL KNOWN EXPRESS STEAMER "FRANCE" OF THE FRENCH LINE.

In conjunction with our European offices we have made the most minute preparations regarding train, automobile and hotel accommodations. Every comfort therefore is assured in spite of the more or less unsettled conditions which still prevail, and altogether a most complete sight-seeing program—which provides for return to New York on November 17th—has been evolved.

For those desiring to extend their stay abroad we have planned an additional tour which includes the most attractive parts of Italy and which will terminate in New York on December 15th.

Write, call or telephone at once for most complete and detailed program, now ready.

In addition to EUROPEAN ITINERARIES our plans for the coming WINTER and SPRING will include tours to BERMUDA, CALIFORNIA, JAPAN, CHINA and the PHILIPPINES. Cruises to the WEST INDIES, CENTRAL AMERICA and SOUTH AMERICA.

Adirondack Hotels And Resorts Plan Extensive Changes

$1,000,000 Projects Under Way to Assure Room for Guests Turned Away in Record-Breaking Season

Special Correspondence
ADIRONDACK, N. Y., Sept. 27.—The end of a record-breaking season in the Adirondacks, now close at hand, finds many of the owners, managers and others identified with the great hotel interests of the region occupied with consideration of projects for expansion involving a total expenditure of approximately $1,000,000.

Principal among the big projects is that for a new hotel to be built at Saranac Lake village at a cost of $1,000,000. This hotel, which is a community project, is to be a fireproof, all-the-year hotel of 100 rooms capacity. It is hoped to have the building completed by January 1, 1921. T. Edmund Krumholz, of the former Ruisseaux Hotel at Lake Placid, has been selected as manager of the project.

Progress is being made on the project to build on the grounds of the present Grand View Hotel, at Lake Placid, another large fireproof, all-the-year hotel costing approximately $1,000,000. This hotel, which is a community project, is to be a fireproof, all-the-year hotel of 100 rooms capacity. It is hoped to have the building completed by January 1, 1921. T. Edmund Krumholz, of the former Ruisseaux Hotel at Lake Placid, has been selected as manager of the project.

Plans prepared by the Stevens Hotel Company, of Lake Placid, of which George A. Stevens is president, provide for a fireproof addition, increasing the hotel capacity to about 800. The changes also contemplate the installation of entirely new kitchens equipped with every known device to minimize labor. These plans call for an expenditure of nearly $200,000.

In addition to these major projects are several new camps and cottages to be erected at Whiteface Inn, Lake Placid, in time for the 1920 season, if conditions permit; additions at Placid Club, and changes at Saranac Inn, Upper Saranac Lake, Paul Smith's, the Windsor and Peor's at Westport-on-Lake Champlain, Hotel Au Sable Chasm and Northwoods Inn, Lake Placid.

The changes are made with the view to avoiding conditions that arose in the height of this season, when, after every available inch of space had been utilized, it still was necessary to turn guests away.

The hunters are especially pleased over the fact that most of the hotels remain open well into October. They are now here in increasing numbers, ready to take to the forest promptly at the opening of the season October 1. Guests of Mrs. Henry J. Davidson, of New York, at a luncheon given at the club house, included Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Legg, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Monahan, Arthur Delory, R. P. Sage, Miss Wilson, Anne Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. Doctor Bradford, Dr. and Mrs. J. Van Bergen.

Mrs. Vincent Astor recently arrived at Paul Smith's, where she was called by the illness of her mother, Mrs. Robert P. Huntington, who has been spending the season at her camp on the upper St. Regis Lake.

An Autumn Bride

Mrs. H. Robert Young

One of the many weddings of the fall season which had a touch of romance was that of Miss Isabel Maxwell to Col. H. Robert Young, who was one of the corps of experts who accompanied the President to the Peace Conference at Paris.

both of whom recently returned from overseas.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Anhalt, of Searsdale, Ind., were married early in the week.

September honeymooners at the Stevens House, Lake Placid, include Dr. and Mrs. William B. Swartley and Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Price, of Philadelphia, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur F. Pym, of New York.

Recent New York arrivals at the Stevens House include Mr. and Mrs. Starr, Miss Ruth Starr, W. D. Ebbitt, Duncan Ebbitt, Miss Helen Keely, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Sawyer, Curtis A. Peters, S. Howard Peters, P. C. McGovern, H. G. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Garretson, A. E. Howard, P. L. Kiernan and Mr. and Mrs. A. Rack.

Among those recently arrived at North Woods Inn, Lake Placid, are Miss E. Louise Trencheard, of South Orange, N. J., and Miss M. Grace Merriek, of West Orange, who will remain a month.

Other New York arrivals at North Woods Inn include Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Sherman, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Curran, Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Blauvelt and Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Fox.

Minicola Horse Show Is Chief Garden City Event

Special Correspondence
GARDEN CITY, Long Island, Sept. 27.—With the poloists returning from the national tournaments at Philadelphia the horse show at the Minicola Park special golf matches at the Salisbury, Garden City and Cherry Valley clubs and the numerous house parties being held at almost all the large homes of Nassau County, this has been a week of unusual social activity.

Many of the members of the various horse parties came down to the place known as Westbury, Hempstead, Garden City, the Piping Rock section and the Garden City Hotel for the Piping Rock Horse Show last week and the show at Minicola this week.

Fox and drug hunting will soon commence at Meadow Brook and the favored riders will be in the saddle weekly at the numerous events to be held over the north country of Nassau County, and Philadelphia, several of which had the annual point-to-point steeplechase on Thanksgiving Day.

Wednesday, the opening day of the Minicola Horse Show, was a fairly favorable day, but the weather conditions could not have been more favorable, and it brought to the grounds all the horse-loving colonies of Long Island, in addition to those of Newport and Philadelphia, several of whom had entries in the hunter and polo pony classes.

Among the New Yorkers now at the Minicola Horse Show are Mrs. Samuel Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Thomas, Judge and Mrs. A. A. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney L. Smith, and Mrs. William J. Broomer, Mrs. John A. McCall, Mrs. Philander R. Jennings, Mrs. J. C. Stuart and Miss Marie Clarke.

Americanism Pleas As Made to Colony At Sulphur Springs

Mrs. Pankhurst Says Women Will Beat Reds

Special Correspondence
WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., Sept. 27.—The atmosphere at White Sulphur Springs last week was charged with patriotism, or Americanism, as it is more popularly known. The meeting of the insurance associations brought many influential businessmen to the Greenbrier, and important problems of the day were discussed.

At the annual banquet Henry Waters Taft, president of the New York State Bar Association, was the principal speaker, and he took occasion to impress the necessity of being alert to Bolshevik propaganda that has been instrumental in causing much of the labor unrest. Mr. Taft stated that the parlor Bolshevik and the parlor Socialist are dangerous figures in society, speaking at random on subjects with which they are not acquainted, and that to combat the discontent spread by the parlor Bolshevik and the parlor Socialist is the duty of every intelligent person should inform himself as to the origin of the radical programme and do his part to destroy it by constantly adhering to real American principles.

At the thirty-second annual convention of the National Paint, Oil and Varnish Association, which had its formal opening Tuesday evening in the white ballroom, Governor John J. Cornwell of West Virginia, the principal speaker, spoke on the labor situation, urging a stand in combating the programme of Russianism and radicalism that would prevent increased production in this country.

Governor Cornwell declared himself in sympathy with those labor movements that seek justice, but unreservedly against the labor organizations that are standing out for increased wages with shorter hours.

Arrivals from New York
Mr. and Mrs. William J. Graham are here from New York for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Triffin, R. Triffin, Jr., Mrs. Jose Blonda, the Misses Rosario, Marie, Louise and Z. Rely are registered here from New York. Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Ward, Mr. and Mrs. James Deering, Gordon A. Smith and Ralph R. Lounsbury are among those forming the New York colony here.

The Rev. Warren L. Rogers, rector of St. John's Church, Jersey City, N. J., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. George Theodore Smith, at the Greenbrier.

Miss Natalie Young Smith gave a picnic Sunday evening on Greenbrier River for a large number of the younger set.

The McKenna Entertain
Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. McKenna, of New York, had as their week-end guest at Casino Cottage Christian Holmes, Jr., of Cincinnati, who stopped here en route to New York, where he joined his mother, Mrs. C. K. Holmes, at the Plaza.

Mr. and Mrs. George D. Churchill, of Rumson, N. J., who came to White Sulphur to visit Mrs. James B. Weir at her cottage in Florida, have returned to their home at Rumson, N. J.

Dr. and Mrs. John Herndon French and Miss Mercer French have returned to New York after passing two months at White Sulphur Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Aldrich, of Great Neck, Long Island, will be at the Greenbrier for two weeks, arriving here on Monday. Mr. and Mrs. J. Kennedy Tod, Mr. and Mrs. George B. Post, Mrs. David Stevenson, the J. Stevens Ulmans, Robert Livingston Gerry, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Steele, Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Bode, Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Dorrance and many others from New York will arrive this week.

Mrs. Pankhurst Says Women Will Beat Reds

British Suffragist Declares New Voters Will Down Efforts of Bolsheviki Here

Reds in America will make no appreciable progress, if the enfranchised women are alert and vote. This is the view of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the British suffragist, now in this country. She also asserts that peace cannot be considered as reestablished as long as the Bolsheviki are paramount in Russia, and urges women to remain active outside the home.

"Women are needed to work out the after-war problems, just as they were needed during the war," she said yesterday.

"They must be given scope. All that the man competitor has to ask is that women do not undercut or lower the standard."

"One couldn't help seeing the wonderful work of the Y. M. C. A. and similar organizations in England, France and America. They seemed to win with one another in doing the best work."

"They came into all sorts of activities and I do not think it is an exaggeration to say the war could not have been won without them. Now that the military stage is over—I don't think we can say the war is over, with Russia in the state it is—there is much to be done."

"Naturally, women will take the place of those who will never come back. Our factories and our farms have suffered and are still suffering from an insufficiency of labor. Women really face an unusual opportunity for service."

Calgary Had Tent City to Accommodate Its Tourists

Americans swarmed to the Canadian Rockies in such numbers this year that it was impossible to supply all of them with hotel and other accommodations at the hotels and rooming houses. One place alone, Banff, with its great hotel, reports that it had to refuse quarters to 15,000 tourists. These could get accommodations for daylight visits, but sleeping quarters were not sufficient. There was always plenty to eat and plenty to see, and these factors reconciled the travellers to their failure to get rooms. Next year the rush will be greater and quite possibly Banff and other mountain resorts will follow Calgary's example and establish tent cities. Banff, however, comes under the jurisdiction of a national park, while Calgary operated its tent city during the Victory Stand-pede as a municipal affair. It was designed for motorists from other Canadian cities and from the United States. Next year, when the Circle Tour from Montreal via Calgary, Banff, Windsor, Lake Superior, the Crown Point, the bridge and many glaciers, Banff, will be in operation, thousands of motorists will come and will have to be accommodated.

Newport Still Hoping for Visit by Prince of Wales

Social Colonists Cling to Faint Chance Royal Visitor May Go There for Even a Brief Stay

Special Correspondence
NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 27.—Members of the late staying colony here and those of the winter colony have not given up hope yet of a visit here from the Prince of Wales. All hopes were high during the summer that the future king of England would run down from Canada for a brief visit to Newport when the real autumn season was on. There hopes were dashed, for the prince's itinerary was made up so that he was unable to visit this city just when the members of the summer colony would have liked to have had him.

Now, as he is to be in New York early in November, the late stayers here are in high spirits, and it is possible to have the Prince of Wales at Narragansett Bay, if even for only a short period.

Everybody here would like to see the prince. The late stayers here are in high spirits, and it is possible to have the Prince of Wales at Narragansett Bay, if even for only a short period.

War Posters Collected
Mrs. Arthur Spencer Graham, Miss Wetmore, Miss Dorothy Watts, Mrs. W. W. Phelps, Mrs. Charles L. F. Robinson, have been collecting war posters, both domestic and foreign. Together they have a fine collection, and as they have been loaned to the art association and are now hung in the gallery there, they are attracting much attention. From every point of view, they are one of the most unique exhibits that have ever been held here.
